

Juniors Honor Seniors With Formal Dance

Committee Calls May 3, Red Letter Day; Says Celebrities Come.

McCarthy Is Expected

Modernistic Theme Will Be Used Throughout Decorations and Lighting Effects.

Tomorrow night from nine until one, the formal Junior-Senior Prom will take place in Room 114, known familiarly as "The Old West Library." Elaborate preparation is being made to make the dance a memorable one.

The committee in charge of arrangements submits the following under the head, "Red Letter Day, May 3, 1941."

"All Juniors and Seniors should be certain to bring a guest, and attend the Formal Opening of the Promenade Theater under the new management of the Junior Class of 1941. A committee, composed of the Junior class officers aided and abetted by Miss Day Weems, social adviser, and other members of the Junior class, has secured many of the most famous Hollywoodites as special attractions for the super-colossal premiere performance of the Promenade Theater. We shall be entertained by the Andrews Sisters, Charlie McCarthy and Edgar Bergen, Mae West, Kathryn Hepburn, and many others. Here is your chance to secure the autographs of your favorite cinema idols.

"Dick Moyer will act as master of ceremonies and with his brilliant wit and pleasing stage presence, we should all have a pleasant four hours of dancing. Johnny Geiger and his Tivoli Ambassadors of Swing will furnish "easy rhythms" for the pleasure and enjoyment of the Promenade patrons.

"Decorations in modernistic design will consist of gorgeous streamers in pastel colors set off by a sunburst lighting effect along the walls. There will be no lights from the ceiling, which will be covered with balloons. "There will be dance programs with souvenirs for each person present. There will be a receiving line and a distinguished list of honor guests. Invited guests are President and Mrs. Uel W. Lamkin, Dean and Mrs. J. W. Jones, Miss Mattie Dykes, Miss Dorothy Truex and guest, and Miss Marlene Lippitt.

"The chaperones are to be Miss Day Weems and guest, Mr. M. W. Wilson and guest, and Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Dorn, Jr.

"All Seniors who have not already done so may secure complimentary tickets from Miss Truex. Juniors may secure theirs from the class officers or Miss Weems.

"We wish to express our appreciation to those Juniors who have paid their class dues."

Short Course People Begin Their Studies

The short course has started! Each spring regular students on the campus see many new faces as the new people enroll and recognize faces of former students.

A few of those enrolled this spring are: Elberta Shannon of Trimble, Missouri; Deloris Miller of Brimston, Missouri; and Zo Ellen Pilcher of Green City, Missouri. Miss Shannon has been employed as the teacher at Oakdale school in Clinton County. Miss Miller has been teaching at Wooderson school. Miss Pilcher has taught at Green-castle school in Sullivan County. These women are all members of the Junior class at the present time.

Miss Lila Montgomery, who has been teaching at Chapel Valley school in Buchanan County is also enrolled for the five weeks' course. Miss Montgomery was one of the students whose names were included on the honor roll last summer when she was here in College.

Miss Alene Hunt, a Senior student at the College who left school a month ago to take a position teaching commerce at Mercer, has returned. Lacking only a few hours on her degree she decided to complete the courses she had started so that she can graduate this spring. She took up work in three of the classes that she had been carrying and is proceeding with her work here.

Dormitory Girls Will Elect Residence Hall will hold its annual election Monday at which time a president will be selected to succeed Mary Madgett, present president. The vice-president chosen will follow Iola Argo.

Leslie Somerville, Jr., Is Presented in Recital

Leslie G. Somerville, Jr., pupil of Mr. H. N. Schuster gave a recital Monday evening. It was presented in the Horace Mann auditorium at 8:00 o'clock.

Mr. Somerville, a senior in the College, is a bass singer. His accompanist was Mrs. H. N. Schuster. If the approval of the listeners is a measure of the success of a recital, then the singing was well done. After hearing Mr. Somerville sing fourteen selections, the audience called him back for an encore which was also well received.

Letters Disclose Alumni's Continued Interest in College

Mr. H. T. Phillips Receives Information Concerning Work of Graduates.

It has been said that college days are among the most memorable in the life of the individual. According to Mr. Homer T. Phillips, this is certainly true of the total correspondence which he receives as Chairman of the Committee on Recommendations from graduates of the College. As the result of a letter of inquiry sent out to teachers in the field who had taught at Maryville State Teachers College, he had received a great number of letters from teachers in various sections of the country.

They revealed a candid interest in the Alumni Association of the College and were prompt in reminding their dues to the association for its continuance. At the same time these folk reiterated the endearment of college days to their memories and wished it much fame and prominence in the future.

Each correspondent was asked to give an account of his endeavors and achievements in the field, as well as to report vacancies in the field to the office. Their replies augmented the reputation of the training of the College for in practically all instances the teachers were rehired and often with a raise in salary. Letters were received from such distant points as: Newcastle, Wyoming where Justin O. Kewling is teaching. He wrote of having a great year in that system and expressed a desire to see more Maryville graduates in that section of the country because they were highly recommended and had made good records; Franklin Park, Illinois, a suburb of Chicago, where Sam England teaches at Leyden Community High School. He expressed his elation over hearing from the College again and sent a picture of a magnificent new school building which will be opened there soon.

Letters also revealed that Dan Cupid continues to remove a considerable number of the fairer sex from the list of eligible teachers yearly.

The bulk of correspondence from graduates reveals an ever-increasing demand for the graduates of Maryville State Teachers College.

Elmer Hawk Is Cast in 'Lead Role for Revue

Elmer Hawk, a freshman in the College, has been selected to play the leading male role in the All-College Revue which will be presented at the College on May 21. Dorothy White, also a freshman in the College, will play the opposing lead role.

Mr. Hawk, a tenor, was cast for another role in the Revue, until a shift in the casting elevated him to the lead in the production. The part he was originally intended to play will be filled by James Earl Summers.

Principal characters in the production have been rehearsing their parts for several weeks, but chorus rehearsals were deferred, pending the final selection of the dance group and a singing chorus. The dance group will be organized and directed by Miss Day Weems, sponsor of the College Dance Club. Girls interested in joining this group should see Miss Weems by Wednesday, May 7.

A. C. E. Members Must Earn Dollar for Gift

"Shine today miss?" "Would you like your nails manicured?" These will be commonly heard questions next Saturday, May 3. Each member of the Association for Childhood Education is to earn a dollar.

There is no requirement made as to the ways and means of earning this dollar. This is left to the discretion of the members. Some women will give manicures and wave sets, some will take care of children and some may even wash cars, to earn their dollar.

The money will be put in a treasury fund and may be used later to buy a gift for the organization. Jean Zimmerman is in general charge of arrangements for the day.

John Lloyd Ford, "Jack," Cited for Noteworthy Work

College Alumnus Works As Meteorologist; Has Sea Detail on Atlantic.

Word has been received here, through Dr. Hake, of the citation of John Lloyd Ford, a graduate of this institution, for remarkable work with the Government Meteorological Service.

Last summer Mr. Ford, better known as Jack Ford, volunteered for position with the Meteorological Service on the Atlantic Ocean. This branch of the service covers a stretch of ocean between the Atlantic coast and the Azores taking weather observations. Mr. Ford has made five trips covering over 11,000 miles. Observations are made mainly with the radiosondes, a mechanism sent aloft by balloon. Data concerning temperature, barometric pressure, and humidity, are automatically returned to shipboard by short wave.

A portion of the citation follows: "It is desired to call attention to the exceptionally fine radiosonde records obtained aboard cutter Hamilton during period September 5-28, 1940. Mr. Ford and the men who assisted him in the work are accordingly commended for the excellent results obtained."

"It is requested that this letter be shown to Mr. Ford on his return from next sea detail."

Ford graduated from the College in 1935 with a major in mathematics and a minor in Physics. He obtained his Master's degree at Iowa University, where he was especially interested in Meteorology.

Mr. Ford occupied a Civil Service Position with the Meteorological Service at St. Louis before volunteering for the Atlantic branch of the Service.

Keys to Be Awarded for Student Senate Service

There has been instituted on this campus a new tradition beginning this year. A key will be presented to those Juniors and Seniors who have served three terms as members of the Senate in recognition of their service to the College. The keys will be presented at Commencement time.

Those who will receive keys this year are Robert Turner, Marjorie Stone, Rex Steffey, Vaughn Means, Ted Young, Mary Frances McCaffrey, and Wallace Oursler.

Alumni Win Honors at Missouri School of Law

June Morgan, who took his B. S. degree from the College with the class of 1940, and William J. Beavers, who took his degree in 1939, have both received honors at the University of Missouri School of Law, according to Russell Noblet, prosecuting attorney for Nodaway county, also a graduate of the College with the class of 1933.

Mr. Morgan, who is a freshman in the law school, won the Marshall Club competition and was finalist in the Freshman Case Club competition for 1940-41. Mr. Beavers, who is a junior, won the same kind of honor in the Junior Case Club competition.

The Case Club was started last year at the Law School of the University of Missouri in order to give students of law a chance to prepare briefs and argue real cases before lawyers. The try-outs are made before lawyers and the final before professors in the Law School.

The competition in which Mr. Beavers took part was heard by four members of the Supreme Court of Missouri. Mr. Beavers and his colleague won their case, and Mr. Beavers was picked as the ranking speaker.

Mr. Noblet, commenting upon the honors won by these two young men, said that the competition furnished the law students valuable experience in preparing briefs and arguing cases before the appellate and supreme courts, quite different experience from that in regular trial courts.

"Bill" Yates Takes Commercial Position

William Yates, a graduate of the College with the class of 1934, who has been teaching for the last three years in the School of Mines, at Rolla, has accepted a position with the Westvaco Chlorine Products Company at Charleston, West Virginia. It is understood that this is a very fine position for a chemical engineer.

Mr. Yates after he left college here continued his study at Ames, Iowa, where he took his Master's degree in chemical engineering. He has done further graduate study in chemistry.

Senate Chooses Associate Editor for College Paper

At their last meeting, the Student Senate appointed Walter Johnson Associate Editor of the Northwest Missourian. Mr. Johnson is a member of the Junior class. He has worked on the paper as news reporter and feature writer for the past quarter. Before entering College in the summer quarter of 1940, he had attended St. Joseph Junior College for three semesters.

Mr. Johnson is well acquainted with newspaper work. Besides his work on the Northwest Missourian, he contributed to "The Dial," a magazine published by the high school he attended in Brattleboro, Vermont.

Upon leaving Brattleboro High School Mr. Johnson worked his way twice around the world as a merchant-seaman with the Isthmian Steamship Company. Most of this time was spent in the Far East. Mr. Johnson is married. His wife is also attending this College.

Marion Moyes Will Head College YMCA Next Year

The annual election meeting of the YMCA was held at the home of Leland Hamilton, Marion Moyes, and Jesse Lundy at 816 North Walnut Street on Thursday evening, April 24, with the members of the YMCA as guests of the retiring officers, Leland Hamilton, Marion Moyes, Jesse Lundy, and Byron Stevenson. After a brief business session, the evening was spent socially. Refreshments were served.

Officers elected for 1941-42 are Marion Moyes, president; Paul Smith, vice-president; Ellis Reynolds, treasurer; and Jesse Lundy, secretary. Marion Moyes was elected to represent the College YMCA at the Missouri "Y" council at Knobnoster, Missouri, May 2-4.

Leni Alano Weds Young Doctor in Philippine Isles

Dr. Lowery's Niece Attends Wedding; Entertains for Young People.

News of the marriage of Miss Leni Alano to Dr. Jaime O. Rivera, both of the Philippine Islands, has reached Maryville in a letter to Dr. Ruth Lowery from her niece, Mrs. Henry H. Stickney. The marriage took place at the church of the Apostolic Delegation, Saturday morning, April 19, at six o'clock in the morning.

Mrs. Stickney, who attended the wedding, commented, "Really what this country needs is a law prohibiting such outlandish hours." She said of Leni, as people on the campus know her, "She and her very fine, clean-cut young doctor had dinner with us on Thursday evening."

After the marriage, Dr. and Mrs. Rivera left by boat for a cruise to the southern islands. On their return, they will make their home in Baguio, where Dr. Rivera is a practicing physician.

Miss Alano, the daughter of Assemblyman for Zamboanga and Mrs. Juan S. Alano, was a former student in the College.

Dr. Lowery's niece, Mrs. Stickney, who wrote of the wedding, has been ordered out of the Philippines on account of the war situation and is returning on SS. Washington, May 12. Eight hundred women and children are being evacuated. Lieutenant Colonel Stickney, the husband, will remain. He is the ranking officer in the engineering corps at Fort Santiago.

Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. Stickney have visited Dr. Lowery in Maryville.

Y. M. C. A. Gospel Team Presents Two Programs

The Y. M. C. A. Gospel Team presented two programs Sunday April 27. At eleven o'clock they gave a program at the Methodist church in Osborn. At 7:45 o'clock that evening they gave one at the Methodist church in Cameron.

Forrest Barnes spoke on "Words of an Honest Doubter" at Osborn, and Marian Moyes spoke of "The Lost Bible" at Cameron. Emmert Lawson gave a talk on "Living a More Abundant Life" at both places. Virgil Blackwelder gave a trumpet solo, and Randolph Butts played a piano solo. Others who were on the program were Paul Smith, Harvey Thompson, Ellis Reynolds, Mack Jackson, John Carl Dunlap, Cecil Newkirk, and J. R. Carpenter.

Athers who made the trip were Buford Elliott, Ronald Ensign, W. J. Cotton, Lloyd Latia, and Kenneth Israel.

At the dinner at Osborn and the supper at Cameron the members of the Gospel team and their hosts, the people of the churches they were visiting, met informally for a good time. At Cameron, the groups attended the Epworth League meeting at which Mr. C. F. Frazier, superintendent of the Cameron schools, gave a very interesting talk on the "Possibilities of a Piece of String."

Home Economics Girls Will Have Steak Fry

The girls of the Home Economics House with their supervisor, Miss Elleen Elliott, are entertaining seven guests tonight with a steak fry. The girls entertain each quarter with some social event. The group will have the Home Economics House at five o'clock going to the Randle farm northwest of Maryville for the fry.

Years Bring Changes

The Daily Democrat Forum of April 30, 1921, reveals some of the "goings-on" of twenty years ago. "Black Beauty" and "Huckleberry Finn" were playing at the local cinemas.

On the campus speculation was raging over the identity of the Stroller, a column appearing in the campus paper, Green and White Courier. "The age, sex, and name of writer of college gossip remains a mystery," says the article.

A headline said, "Dream of Dormitory About to be Realized." The article went on to say, "It will be situated on West side of the main quadrangle on the line of the main wing of the Administration building and about half-way to the President's house."

The College was conducting 23 extension courses in nine cities with a class membership of more than 300.

The M club was planning a strenuous campaign to present Northwest Missouri State Teachers College to high school students in Northwest Missouri. They were to be accom-

Two Classes Have to Hold Second Election

Ties in the regular election last week necessitated another election, which was accordingly held on Friday of last week.

From the Junior class, John Anderson was elected as two-term senator, and Richard McDougal as one-term senator.

Barbara Leet was elected one-term senator to represent the Sophomore class.

These officers, with those elected at the regular election April 23, will be installed in office the second week in May.

College Sends Two Student Officers to N. S. F. A. Meeting

Ted Young and Bob Turner Represent College at Convention.

Robert Turner, president of the Student Governing Association, and Theodore Young, recently elected president for next year, attended the National Student Federation of America which was held at Ames, Iowa, last week-end. Seven states were represented at this meeting. There were approximately 50 delegates from 25 or 30 schools present.

Both Mr. Turner and Mr. Young were commission leaders and both led round table discussions. Mr. Turner led the discussion on "Structures of Student Government," and Mr. Young on "Functions and Scope of Student Government." During the meeting there were three commissions running at the same time each last two hours. One of the most representative statements of the conference was "The students in student government are not working for more power but for greater co-operation between student and faculty," according to Mr. Turner and Mr. Young.

While at Ames, the Delta Tau Delta gave up their house to the visitors. Practically all the boys at Ames are engineers and 9 out of 10 girls are taking Home Economics.

Both Mr. Young and Mr. Turner commented on the fact that the students of this College have more freedom than most college students. In many colleges dancing is prohibited, and the students do not have as much control over student affairs as here.

Almost all the schools represented at the meeting had some form of a student center or union. Many are in buildings financed by the students. The Student Union at Ames was particularly well liked. The building is about three-fourths the size of our Administration building and is owned and financed by the students. This building maintains everything from religious groups to bowling alleys. Some of the more important features of this Student Union are faculty rooms, publicity office, cafeteria, soda fountain, grill, lecture rooms, dancing rooms, alumni rooms, barber shop, beauty shop, magazines, and lounges. This project was begun in 1926 and both Mr. Young and Mr. Turner stated that it was a very fine Student Union.

Miss Kua Saligupta Plans Her Return to Thailand

Miss Kua Saligupta, who has been a student here since last fall, plans to return to her home in Bangkok, Thailand, this summer.

Miss Saligupta gives the rather interesting derivation of her name. Kua, in Thai, means "to assist," Saligupta (pronounced "Sally Coop") means farmer in Sanskrit.

Miss Saligupta plans to leave Maryville on May 29 for St. Joseph. She will spend several days in St. Joseph before leaving for Argonia, Kansas.

She plans to spend some time in California visiting in Three Rivers and attending a religious conference in Berkeley. Boarding the liner President Taft in San Francisco, she will arrive in Bangkok, July 23.

Miss Saligupta attended Silliman University, Summaguete, Philippine Islands, three years, and the year spent here completes her work for a Bachelor of Science degree. She has taught in the Presbyterian Mission high school in Bangkok, and plans to return to that position.

Hans Lange's Orchestra Will Give Two Concerts Here Wednesday.

Sixteen Men Perform

Members of Ensemble Are Hand Picked from Chicago Symphony.

Wednesday, May 7, is the date on which the Hans Lange Little Symphony will give two concerts in the auditorium in the Administration Building of the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College—not the date announced last week.

The musical group will give a performance at 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon and another at 8:15 in the evening. The program will be different at the two concerts.

General admission tickets will be one dollar for matinee or for evening performance. Admission and reserved seat tickets are on sale at Kuehn Brothers. Reserved seat tickets for the upholstered seats in the center front of the auditorium are 25 cents in addition to admission tickets or activity cards. Other reserved seats are 10 cents in addition to admission tickets or activity cards. These 10 cent seats include front seats on either side section.

Student groups of ten or more with an accompanying chaperone may secure admission at 40 cents per person if they make advance reservations.

This musical group consists of Hans Lange, conductor, and 16 of the finest players from the Chicago Symphony Orchestra. Among them are John Weicher, concertmaster, Robert Quirk, assistant concertmaster, Walter Hancock, violin, Clarence Evans, violin, Dudley Powers, violoncello, Philip Farkas, first horn, Jane Anderson, piano.

Critics are extravagant in their praise of this little symphony. Olin Downes of the New York Times says of it:

"No wonder that when this performance ended, an audience applauded with such persistence, until, after many minutes, Mr. Lange and his men came back to the stage to repeat a goodly portion of the music. Mr. Lange's heart was obviously in his task and the musicians responded to his beat with everything they could give. The conductor and players richly deserved the applause they received. The concert was a triumph."

Alumnus 'Drects Many Music Organizations

The work of Earl Somerville, a graduate of the College with the class of 1930, was the subject of part of a long article on the music in North Intermediate school of Saginaw, Michigan, published in the Saginaw News of April 27.

Mr. Somerville, son of Mr. Leslie Somerville of the College faculty, is instrumental instructor in the school written up. He has charge of three orchestras and three bands. He gives two concerts a year with his musicians.

Recently Mr. Somerville has started a string ensemble that is to become a permanent feature of his department.

From the Dean

Here are some W's that will prevent a W at the end of a course:

Are you Willing to Work?
Do you ask: Why? When? Where? What?
Do you Want Wisdom?
Have you the Will to Win?
Why not put these W's to work in YOUR case?

A REPRESENTATIVE GOVERNMENT

Class officers divulge a rather startling fact that in the Sophomore Class there were but five members present at the class meeting on April 25, and in the Junior Class only 27. There is ample evidence to assume that all the members of these classes knew of the election at least twenty-four hours in advance. At least class officers fulfilled their obligations by placing a notification of the election on the bulletin board. This is the accepted method of student communication.

Is it that students are not interested in their own government? Student government without personal participation of every member in that government is impossible, that is, if the government is to be a good one. It would seem from the figures above that the student government, though representative, is functioning in the hands of a very few. They are to be commended for their excellent work in the interest of student government. But an increased interest on the part of each and every student is necessary for the efficient functioning of a student government.

Bulletin Board

All who expect to take their degrees this year—spring or summer—must give their measurements for cap and gown to Leland Hamilton at once.

Writers' Club will meet Monday evening at 7:30 at the apartment of Miss Mattie M. Dykes, 611 North Buchanan.

Quotable Quotes

"Better to ask than go astray."
Italian proverb.

"Assurance is two-thirds of success."
Gaelic proverb.

"It is good to rub and polish our brain against that of others."
Montaigne.

"We measure genius by quality not quantity."
Wendell Phillips.

"Perfectly true, perfectly general, perfectly meaningless."
Dr. Salisbury.

"The human world as we know it is the product of work—work with the hands or work with the brain. Its progress is only made possible by work. It is work which has lifted us out of brute life. It may be work which is tiresome, it may be work which is nerve-wrecking or it may be work which brings with it satisfaction and delight. In any case it must be work. Everything depends upon whether the individual human being understands his work and what it means and what part it plays in the human economy, and whether he is ready and willing to do his very best to make his work productive and helpful to his fellow-men."
—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler.

"A democratic education is an education which helps human persons to shape themselves, judge by themselves, discipline themselves, to love and to prize the high truths which are the very root and safeguard of their dignity, to respect in themselves and in others human nature and conscience and to conquer themselves in order to win their liberty."
—Dr. Jacques Maritain.

LIBRARY REGULATIONS

For the benefit of those students who are just now enrolling in school, and as a reminder to those who have been here all year, the following suggestions and directions for the use of the Library are offered.

To obtain a book from the stacks, the borrower should go to the table in the card catalog alcove at the south end of the second floor hall, and get a call slip. Look in the card catalog for the card for the book you want. You will find your book listed under either the name of the author, under the title or under the general subject heading. When you have found in the catalog the card for the book you want, write down on the call slip on the lines marked "call numbers" all the numbers which are on the upper left hand corner of the card in the drawer. It is important to remember that the call numbers must be copied onto the call slip exactly as they are in the card catalog. Any deviation whatever will get some book other than the one you wanted.

When you have filled in the call slip, leaving vacant the last three lines, hand it to the attendant at the second floor charging desk, who will get your book for you. No student will be allowed to enter the stack room without the special permission of Mr. Wells.

The date your book is due will be stamped on the book card and on the date due slip in the back of your book. Consult your book's date due slip and avoid having to pay fines. If the date due slip is stamped May 7, it means May 7. Don't bring your book in to get it by without a fine! From the Main desk, overdue books are charged at the rate of ten cents per day, and magazines at five cents per hour. From the Reserve room, all books and magazines are charged at five cents per hour.

All General Course books and all special reserves are kept in the Reserve room. If your instructor says "Such and such a book is on reserve", look for it in the Reserve room, never at the Main desk.

All encyclopedias and general reference books such as Who's Who in America are kept just back of the reference desk in the main reading room, on the second floor. You may use these books at your will, but they must not be taken from the reading room. If you have any questions, as did the innocent young thing who, when told that a certain book was not on reserve but was upstairs, inquired, "Where is upstairs?", don't hesitate to ask any member of the Library staff. They are always glad to help you make the best possible use of the Library.

—The Library

Signs of Ingenuity

Ingenuity is not lacking on the College campus—at least among members of the faculty and staff members of various offices around the building. It really is a clever use of what is already in existence when the staff of the Registrar's office takes a crack in the counter and makes out of it an attractive slot for course-books. In fact, it looks to a newspaper reporter as though it were the old idea of making a doughnut around a hole.

A neat piece of Bristol board with a slot of the proper size to take the course-book, carefully labeled: "Drop Course-Books Here," fastened to the required length of crack with Scotch tape, and presto! There it is, as attractive as you please, and the old course-book box nowhere in sight.

Another piece of ingenuity was to be seen one day in the bookstore when Martha's apron needed to be dried quickly. No clothes-line. Martha's mind went to work. There on a wire display rack for Fritos was the apron drying on an improvised clothes-line.

But the finest piece of ingenuity is this. One of the faculty members who has trouble keeping her supply of paper clips where she can always put her hand on them now wears them around her neck. And an attractive necklace they make. Who is she? Look for the necklace and then compliment her on her originality.

Higher Degrees Pay Recent Survey Says

BYRN MAWR, PA.—(ACP)—In cold cash, what is a college education worth to a girl? Not as much as you'd think.

In fact, unless she goes on and gets a doctor of philosophy degree, the "investment of time and money as represented by earnings does not seem to be justified," it was concluded by the American Association of University Women in a recent survey.

"Fifty-five per cent of the women who have doctorates had attained earnings of $3,000 per year," said Dr. Susan Kingsbury, professor emerita of social economy at Bryn Mawr college, who conducted the poll.

Thirty-three per cent of the Ph. D.'s earned between $3,000 and $4,000, and 22 per cent more than $4,000. Only 17 per cent of those with master's degrees had reached $3,000. Only 8 per cent of women with bachelor's degrees alone had reached that level.

THE FOX AND THE GRAPES

Hang Pictures High Following an Edict

The pioneer plainsman who could take one last look at the heavenly bodies before he closed his eyes each night in his open-air bedroom had nothing on residents of a residence hall at Emory university. They too gaze at "heavenly bodies" as a prelude to sleep.

Faced with an edict banning the tacking of the work of such masters as Petty, Hurrell and Varga—not to mention that portrait of the One and Only—to the walls, they evolved the even more satisfactory idea of fastening said art masterpieces to the ceilings.

Now the hall lullaby is "Look Up, Look Up."

Dear
Diary,

It's a wonderful world! Just when I was thoroughly convinced that the only reason to keep on living was just to see if I could, I suddenly realized and appreciated the beauty of the earth for the first time since grades came out. All week I've been wandering around in a super stupor trying to figure out some way to wangle into the Junior-Senior Prom with about as much luck as a black cat on Friday the thirteenth. Unfortunately, my stag line is composed of freshmen and an occasional bored sophomore. It's perfect from September to May but naturally strikes out when it comes to the Prom. The only upperclassman I've dated is a bespectacled Junior Einstein whose idea of a fascinating conversation is a thorough discussion of the relation between Darwin's theory of evolution and the fourth dimension. I gave him up after the first enlightening evening. Taking everything into consideration, I had just about given up all hope of tripping the light fantastic Saturday night, and was resigned to my fate as wall flower. I had even picked out a good book about how to get a man, any man, and hold him, with which to amuse myself while everybody else was floating dreamily to the strains of something sweet like "One O'Clock Jump". Then I curled up in the Student Center, making myself as small as possible and began casually to look over my Commerce 21 lesson for yesterday. I noticed someone sitting down by me but ignored the unwelcome presence until the words finally registered in my numbed brain.

"I said, would you like to go to the Prom with me?"

Using super human restraint to keep from screaming with joy, I murmured "I'd love to", then looked to see who it was. Tall, dark, definitely handsome, the last person in the world I ever would have expected! And all because I whisper the answers to him when Dr. Blumenthal surprises him with a sudden question! Yes, yes, it's a wonderful world!

Professor Murdies for Health

BELOIT, WIS.—(ACP)—Running Murdies is considered a young man's sport by virtually everyone but Dr. Lucius Chapin Porter, 60-year old professor of comparative religion at Beloit college. Dr. Porter, grandson of Beloit's first president, is on leave from Yenching university, Peking, China, where he taught and coached track for many years. Porter was a track star at Beloit before his graduation in 1901. He still runs for exercise three or four times a week.

The Stroller...

Who knows? The English 102 class may be responsible for the addition of many new words to the English language. The Stroller was present at a meeting of the Class the other day when some words suggested were: "hiser" or "shim" for a pronoun meaning either "his" or "her," and "splubble," a combination of splash and bubble. Splabble in bubble bath, eh?

The Stroller thought for a minute that he heard Lincoln speaking the other day when he passed the door of a room on third. Later she found that it was only a speech class experimenting with a new type recording machine. It seems that somebody was reading the "Gettysburg Address."

The Stroller hears that Dean Wiley has the last word in impromptu speeches. When Miss Bookman asked him to speak on "phonation" he proceeded to describe a "disease" which causes one to have a mania for using the telephone.

The Stroller has recently observed that Aileen White has become interested in Bearcat baseball, especially in a Bearcat baseball pitcher.

The Stroller feels that Ralph Collins should have learned his lesson about trying to pick up strange girls after his car stalled down on Fourth street last week.

The Stroller hears that Marjorie Powell has about decided to give up her college classes and become a radiator cap.

Jack (Zeke) Smith tells the Stroller he got his black eye in a tussle with Bob Maget at the House of Weeda. Then again he insists a door got in his way.

When Betty Bower's "boy back home" came up for a visit one evening last week, Betty's maternal parent came along. Could it be that she likes to check up on Betty once in a while or was she checking up on the boy friend?

"They started us out at dinner with fifteen pieces of silver, and then worked up!" said the student president-elect in reporting to the Stroller on the trip up to Ames, taken by that young man and the student president of this year. Such a time as the two must have had—riding in the bus with the chickens (no, not really, but Bob Turner was at least sympathetic for the chickens being transported by mail, saying, "Gosh, I feel sorry for those chickens' feet"), the owner in some man's room and having the owner arrive in the middle of the night, and everything!

The Stroller saw something one day this week that he thinks ought to go into his column, though he wants everybody to know that he does not think it funny. He merely presents the facts: Two young men, supposedly intelligent, supposedly well-mannered, sat up in class, or to be more exact slumped down in class—took off their shoes, and prepared for a nap while the instructor was trying to talk to the class. What is funny—amusing—is that they were the subject of conversation, not at all flattering, from the young ladies who sat near.

Government Is Seeking Training Specialists

An examination for positions as training specialist, paying from $3,200 to $5,800 a year, has been announced by the United States Civil Service Commission. Separate employment lists will be set up according to the types of training work for which eligibles are qualified. Applications must be on file at the Commission's Washington office not later than May 28, 1941.

Responsible experience in organizing, developing, and administering programs for training employees in industry, business, or government is required. Applicants must have demonstrated their ability to use a variety of techniques and training methods, as well as a thorough knowledge of at least one field in which they have organized and administered a training program. In addition to this experience, completion of either a 4-year college course or 4 years of additional experience is required.

Training specialists will plan, organize, and direct training programs for a variety of technical and professional personnel in a major department of the Government. They will act as consultants to operating departments in matters of training procedures and policy, and will adapt and devise training methods and materials.

Chicago Placement Bureau Sees Trends

CHICAGO, ILL.—(ACP)—Placement records of the University of Chicago are beginning to reflect the trend toward replacing men with women in industry, reports Miss Doris B. Lash, placement counselor of the university's board of vocational guidance and placement.

She added, however, that the salaries tend to be lower for women than for men who have held these same positions. For instance, one company which offers a starting salary of $125 a month to men is offering $90 to women in the same capacity.

"There undoubtedly will be a fluctuation upward, as the available good candidates are more plentiful now and certainly cannot last much longer if employment continues to increase."

ers' movements and the colorfulness of their attire.

The suite containing the traditional dances was a favorite with the audience. It contained not only the clever ballet satire, but the Tarantella, the famous spider dance of Italy, and the polka, explained as the "jitter-bug dance of our grandparents' day." Actually it would be difficult for anyone but a dance expert to see any great difference in the old-time polka and the modern swing or jitter-bug dance, so it would seem the polka was well described in the above mentioned explanatory note.

Young America's Answer
The final suite, "Young America's Answer" was popular with the audience not only because of the patriotic consciousness which is current everywhere but because of its containing some very well executed solo and group dances. It was an appropriate finale, from the "Immigration" dance, through the interpretation of racial and religious minorities received in America's so-called melting pot, to the "Respect for Individuality" depicting the conservative and radical personalities. Soloists in this group were: Helen Vincent, Dorothy Weems, Virginia Gray, Vida Bernau and Helen Johnson.

Miss Day Weems, sponsor of the Dance club, directed the group in this performance. Miss Dorothy Steeby was accompanist.

Acknowledgements were made on the program to the Misses Miriam Waggoner and Wincie Carruth of the physical education department; Robert Main and Walter Burks of the speech department; Dr. Reven S. DeJarnette, director of the college choir which sang the prelude and postlude to the concert, and Miss Jacinta Kampmeyer, director of the salon orchestra which provided incidental music.

Other assistants were: costumes, Mrs. Chloe Brown; lighting effects, Godfrey Hochbaum and Jimmy Summers and Edwin Schneider, violinist for the square dance.

Marlene Osborne and Kate McKee visited their parents at Craig Saturday and Sunday. Harriet Osborne returned with them to enroll for the short course. She attended school here last year; and for the past year has been teaching a rural school near Craig.

Competitive Examinations Will Be Given

Special Music Scholarships Are Available for Good Music Students.

Four music scholarships of unusual value will be awarded by the College to graduating high school seniors who win in competitive examinations to be conducted at the College on Saturday, May 17. As only four scholarships are to be awarded, the examinations necessarily will be stringent and exacting.

Examinations will be given in voice, piano, violin, and any band instrument. Each scholarship will award 180 lessons (three years of study), 120 of which will be in the major performing field in which the student is examined and the remainder in an allied field. Should all of the competitors in any one field of study fail to meet the standards required, the scholarship in that field may be transferred to a second high-ranking student in another field, if the College see fit.

The examinations will include major and minor performing interests, an aptitude test, a test in simple music theory, and a questionaire. Music to be performed will be of the contestants' choice, and accompanists should be provided. Pencils and a few sheets of music paper should be brought to the examination.

These examinations are intended expressly for the serious-minded student and all applicants should understand that this is no ordinary competition. They should understand that once the scholarship has been granted it may be discontinued at any time upon display of a lack of progress or of interest. Those who have no genuine interest in music scholarship are to be discouraged from taking the examination.

The May 17th examinations are open to all graduating seniors, whether or not they earned a I or II honor rating in the Northwest Missouri Music-Competition Festivals and for which ratings scholarships will be awarded. These scholarships are more valuable ones, which if won will displace the earlier and less valuable ones earned in the Festival competitions.

Students wishing to apply for the examinations should address a letter to Dr. Reven S. DeJarnette, chairman of the department of Music, Northwest Missouri State Teachers College, Maryville, Missouri, stating the field (or fields) in which he wishes to be examined—voice, piano, violin, or particular band instrument. An official transcript or his high school record should be enclosed or brought with him on May 17. All contestants will report to Room 301, Administration Building, at 9:30 o'clock on the morning of May 17.

Defense Job Training Chart-Guide Is Issued

A condensed chart-guide to defense-training opportunities in programs sponsored by Federal agencies has been compiled and issued by the U. S. Office of Education.

John W. Studebaker, U. S. Commissioner of Education, reports that the chart will be found very useful for guidance purposes in high schools and colleges and will acquaint United States citizens in general with requirements for enrolling in job training programs set up by Congress to meet manpower needs of national defense.

"In aircraft, shipbuilding, machine tools, in metalwork, forging, and steel, America needs able workers," Commissioner Studebaker says. "The armed services also need trained technicians."

"To meet this need, Congress through various appropriations has provided for defense training of an estimated 1,500,000 persons. The future of democracy depends on the efficiency of the 'arsenal of democracy.' That efficiency in turn depends on the skill of workers and management. Training supplies the skill which will preserve our democratic way of life."

The chart-guide, which measures 18 by 23 inches, is entitled "Defense Job Training." It covers 24 training programs including vocational training for persons who have never had a job, advanced training for persons now at work, training of engineers, specialized instruction in radio and at cooks and bakers schools, pilot training—both civil and military—, airport attendant preparation, and training for merchant marine ships' officers and crews.

Information which the chart-guide presents to persons interested in a defense job includes: (1) Number to be trained or in training in fiscal year 1941; (2) wages in training; (3) fees in training; (4) wages on job; (5) purpose of training; (6) persons eligible; (7) length of courses; (8) where offered; (9) where to apply, and, (10) jobs for which training qualifies.

"Defense Job Training" has been issued as an insert in the April issue of School Life, official magazine of the U. S. Office of Education. Subscription to School Life is $1 a year. Single copies of the chart are 5 cents each. Bulk prices are $2 a hundred, $15 a thousand. Orders together with payments should be made to Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

Horace Mann Pupils Entertain Parents

Six hundred and six cup cakes were baked by home economics students at Horace Mann High School to serve at Parent's Night, which was held last Wednesday, April 30. Student teachers at the High School had an opportunity to meet parents and patrons of their high school students there.

Parents were given an opportunity to tour the building where exhibits were arranged, and after the program, which was held in the College auditorium, refreshments were served.

The program opened at 8:15 o'clock with a fifteen minute concert by the Horace Mann orchestra directed by Mr. Don Moyer. Kenneth McGinniss, president of the student body, gave a welcome to the parents and Ola Mae Lincoln, representing the parents, gave the response.

The girl's drum and bugle corps, under the direction of Mr. Frank Baker and Miss Catherine Needles, performed. Mr. Warren Durrott, prominent in musical activities here on the campus, accompanied Kent Stickleman, a Senior student at the High School, who played a trumpet solo. Miss Mildred Niccum accompanied Zela Ruth Conrad who sang a vocal solo. The girl's physical education class under the direction of Miss Alice Roberts presented a demonstration. There were also two selections by the high school chorus, and a piano solo by Lincoln Noblet.

The one-act play, "Dear Lady Be Brave," directed by Miss Rosa Lee Roark, was presented by the following cast: Tommy Graham, Raymond Evans, Cleta McClurg, Ola Mae Lincoln, Sarah B. Jensen and Gene Neidel.

A style show was presented by the home economics classes taught by the Misses Rosemary Larkin, Eleanor Olney, Marian Davies, and Winifred Lightie.

Three selections were played by the Horace Mann band, and the girls' sextette, composed of Beverly Ann Richards, Rhoda Crump, Zela Ruth Conrad, Mary Gates, Ola Mae Lincoln, and Geneva Lance, sang two selections.

The final feature of the program was an address by H. R. Dieterich, principal.

College Students Are Being Fingerprinted

Fingerprinting of College students, under the direction of Alpha Pi Omega, began Monday. Equipment for the procedure is set up in the Student Center where it has remained throughout the week and will continue next week.

Mr. Surrey, faculty sponsor for Alpha Pi Omega service fraternity, has secured the service for College students. He is working with the State Highway Patrol.

Members of the Patrol met with the fraternity men Monday morning and instructed them in technique and procedure of fingerprinting. The work is being done entirely by fraternity members.

New Method of Cedar Rust Control Is Tried

An organic chemical spray, still in the experimental stage, is being used in 1 per cent concentration to test cedar apple rust control on a few cedar trees of the campus.

The spray, especially used for dormant trees, can not be used on the apple trees, but can be on the cedar trees.

According to Dr. Frank Horsfall, the spraying is done just as the fungus on the cedar tree sends out spore horns. Without control, the spores of the cedar go from the cedar to the apple or hawthorne—a rather close relative of the apple and the Missouri state flower—and make yellow spots on the leaves of the apple or hawthorne tree. The cedar tree fungus must have both hosts—the cedar and the apple or hawthorne—or it will be destroyed.

Previously, there has been no control other than cutting cedar trees, but most evidence indicates that this spraying method will be successful although it is still in the experimental stage. The spray, a commercial product called Eigeol, was found to kill algae ("eige" in French); therefore, it is called Eigeol.

Cedar-apple rust affects two kinds of cedar trees—the Virginia Red Cedar and the Western Red Cedar. The tall pointed tree half way between the railroad bridge and the barn is a Western red cedar—the only one on the campus.

Quad Highlights

The boys at the Quad who are on Resident Training have recently been given some new and interesting kinds of work. Most of those in the machine an metal shop are working on some kind of hand tool which is being turned out and finished on a machine lathe. There have been a number of beautiful hammers made, and several other small tools such as screwdrivers, punches, chisels, and plumb bobs for a surveyor's level. Some of the boys will attempt to make the more complicated things such as die and tap cutting sets and motor car axels. They have also begun the operation of the milling machine and shaper machine, as well as some of the drill presses found in the Machine shop.

The boys in the wood shop work groups who are working under David Crozier, are making over some pieces of furniture for teachers and members of the College faculty. They are also making lamps and other furniture for themselves.

Some of the boys have been helping Bruce Montgomery on the campus in seeding down places about the dormitories. This group has also been working on the College drives.

In the Vocational English Department the boys have been demonstrating and describing the things which they have made in Metal class. Johnnie Cantrell and Glenn Sparks gave a very enlightening demonstration about the surveying instrument which they have been using while locating the water lines on the campus.

Charles Snook of the Resident Training project has gone to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas to take an examination for the Army. He is expected to return next week if not drafted into the Army.

Ivan Nally, who lives in Maryville and is one of the students on the NYA, attended the funeral of his Aunt last Tuesday.

The NYA Kittenball team for which Robert Egan is pitching has won several games in the intra-mural league. They won over the Bluebeard team 10 to 6 and won another game from the Hawkeyes.

The Bearcat baseball team lost an exhibition game to the St. Joseph Saints of the Western Association last Thursday on the St. Joseph diamond. 1961, A. D.

It is quite quiet now, this early in the morning. A few brazen little birds are piping thinly.

Those old bricks? Yes, they were probably a building once. University building? Most probably. There's no one now who could remember.

The quiet grey moss inches its way through the mortar and plans gradually to engulf the area. Near-by stands the shattered stump of an old fir tree. The atmosphere is eating away its fibers.

Were there lots of buildings then? Were there lawns and walks and roses in the sunshine? See, here is a bit of an old cement pathway. It crumbles if you step on it.

There is a certain softness about the day yet. The mists are lifting, the air is cooling to the cheek. But everywhere it is so quiet.

Were there many people here then? Didn't they laugh and talk to one another? Didn't they care about the lovely old buildings?

The water in the mill stream chortles as you slap it with a little stone. It is muddy green and flows passively on its way. It is used to being left alone. There are no boats floating on its back.

Why aren't there any boats? That happened to all the people and buildings? Why did they simply leave? Didn't they have any air raid shelters at all?

The sun is coming out now. Listen, the little birds are singing louder.—P. E. in the Oregon Daily Emerald.

Engineering Schools Speed Training Course

STATE COLLEGE, PA.—(ACP)—Engineering schools in American colleges and universities will graduate this June fewer than one-third of the number of engineers required to play important roles in ever-expanding defense industries, according to an estimate by Dr. H. P. Hammond, dean of the school of engineering at Pennsylvania State college.

Emphasizing that the expected 12,500 or slightly more engineers to receive June diplomas will be woefully inadequate to fill industry's needs, Dr. Hammond concluded the situation is so critical that the most patriotic course which a student of engineering can adopt is to complete his education without interruption and as quickly as possible.

The dean praised the government proposal for speeding up the education of engineering students by eliminating summer vacation. "The engineer's place is so important in the whole picture of defense production, and so vital to its speed and efficiency, that every practical means should be taken to insure a growing supply of trained engineers," he said.

Foreign Officers Train Here

Upon an invitation issued by the Chief of Staff of the United States Army, General George C. Marshall, 45 junior officers from other American republics are now studying in three United States Service Schools. The visiting students are expected to remain in the schools for the duration of the courses—approximately three months. At the termination of their courses, they will be assigned to regular Army tactical units for a similar period of field service.

Albert Fike Tells of His Work During Past Year

Albert E. Fike, who is now enrolled for the short course at the College, has been Fine Arts Supervisor in Holt county for the past year. He will continue in the same position for the coming school term.

Holt County has just completed its first year of a Fine Arts Supervisory Program. G. Frank Smith, Holt County superintendent has a well planned program and will continue the work for the coming year.

The culminating activity of the program directed by Mr. Fike was a program, "The American Album in Song and Dance." The county was divided into six sections, Indians, Colonial, Plantation, Mountaineers, Cowboys, and Modern America. Each section portrayed the songs and dance of the period, a typical scene of the time and was introduced by "Uncle Sam," a child who acted as Master of Ceremonies. This program used all of the schools and gave every child a part to play in glorifying America.

The Fine Arts supervisory program, according to Mr. Fike, was begun four years ago, in a southeastern county of our state, when fifteen school boards started a movement for the benefit of the rural child. Along with their county superintendent they decided to hire a Fine Arts Supervisor to visit their schools.

Dean Douglass, State Fine Arts Supervisor, announced recently that there are over eighty counties in Missouri which now have one or more Fine Arts Supervisors. The purpose of the program they carry on is to give the rural boy and girl a chance for music appreciation and to learn of the fundamentals of a universal language. Although it is still a county program, state-wide approval is giving the plan a promising future, Mr. Fike believes.

NYA Receives Added Funds for Defense

Allocation of a supplemental appropriation of $22,955,000 among 48 states, Puerto Rico and the District of Columbia, for operation of the NYA out-of-school work program, with special emphasis on jobs providing young people with practical experience for defense employment, has been announced today by Aubrey Williams, Administrator of the National Youth Administration.

This supplemental appropriation was made available on recommendation of the President and defense officials in the First Deficiency Appropriation Bill signed by the President on April 1st. It is designed to enable the National Youth Administration to maintain a high level of employment of out-of-school youth in shop and mechanical production work and other jobs having a direct bearing on the needs of national defense.

As a result of this appropriation it will be possible for the National Youth Administration to maintain employment of out-of-school youth on its work program at an average monthly level of 384,000 during the period April through June.

Young people will be employed in such jobs as sheet metal, welding, automotive repair, aviation mechanics, woodworking, construction, public health and hospital aid, clerical and service work. In addition to the practical experience they get on the job young people employed on the NYA out-of-school work program have the opportunity to attend related training classes which are conducted by the local school systems.

The supplemental appropriation is distributed among the states on the basis of youth population. Each state receives its funds according to the ratio of its youth population to the total youth population of the United States. Missouri will receive $229,382.

Method of Publishing Poetry Is Different

NEW YORK, N. Y.—(ACP)—A new method of publishing poetry, with the author recording his verse on photographic disks as soon as possible after it has been written, has been developed at City college.

Under a project directed by Kimball Flaccus, who is in charge of the photographic library of contemporary poets, the college has already been visited by 16 American poets, some of whom never before heard the sound of their voices. The recordings of their works were made with the latest high-fidelity sound-reproducing equipment in the college's speech clinic.

On a recent visit, Edgar Lee Masters read numerous selections from "Spoon River Anthology" and also recorded a new unpublished lyric, "Near Fourth Bridge," which he wrote the night before.

Harper's Weekly for Civil War Era Shown

The display cases at the Library now have on exhibition a number of Harper's Weekly, A Journal of Civilization dating from 1860 to 1865. They are all opened at pages which show events of the Civil War.

The issue of May 4, 1861, has as its cover a picture of House-tops of Charleston during Bombardment of Sumter. The cover for May 3, 1862, has individual pictures with the caption, "Heroes of the Battle of Pittsburg Landing." On the page are pictures of Sherman, Nelson, Prentiss, Crittenden, Sweeny, Grant, Buell, Rousseau, McCook, Wallace, McClellan.

The bombardment of Fort Hudson is featured on the cover of the July 18, 1863, issue. Several pictures of the assassination of Abraham Lincoln are shown in the issue of May 20, 1865. On the facing page is a picture symbolizing the beginning and the end of the war and the looking toward the era of peace that seems to be dawning.

Stamp Honors Pestalozzi

The International Bureau of Education in Geneva has issued a stamp to be sold for the benefit of its Service of Intellectual Assistance to Prisoners of War. The stamp is a reproduction of the famous painting by Ramos of Pestalozzi, which hangs in the Museum in Madrid. It is the first of a series to be devoted to the principal educators of the world. The issue comes in sheets of 12 stamps in two different colors (wine and brown) at a cost of 2 Swiss francs a sheet or 20 centimes each, and may be secured from stamp dealers or directly from the International Bureau of Education, Geneva, Switzerland.

Royce Hidgon spent last week-end visiting in Kansas City.

Students Awake to Situation
Williamstown, Mass.—(ACP)—College students of 1941 are as sensible, sober-minded, and keen to the perils that face the country as were those of 1914, according to Dr. James Phinney Baxter, president of Williams college. Dr. Baxter, a member of a Williamstown draft board, said: "I have yet to find a student who was not wholly interested in the national defense program."
